Rev. Archdeacon Dr. Henry Cotton, Chairperson Thurles/Rahealty Famine Food Relief Committee.

This record may perhaps be useful in case that another season of distress or famine should occur.

H. Cotton.

Rev. Dr. Cotton, No. 25, Upr Merrion Street, Dublin.

Thurles, Sun. 19th April 1846.

J. B. Kennedy Esq.

Sir,

I am in receipt of your letter of the 13th inst. stating that the Relief Commissioners have sanctioned the formation of Thurles town and parish as a Relief Division, and I subsequently received your parcel containing the books etc. mentioned in it. This communication is gratifying to the committee and has if possible stimulated them to still greater exertion.

Since I last addressed you they have divided the town into wards, a member of the committee taking charge of each ward with two assistants visiting each house and cabin and taking a kind of census of the poor, and unemployed, which will enable them after to give or withhold tickets for admission on the proposed works - The results of these enquiries in the town alone given at our meeting yesterday are as follows viz:-

243 families containing 739 men, women and children unable to work and almost totally destitute; and

525 families containing 2625 individuals totally depending on the heads, and sons to the number of 790 who cannot procure employment;

Thus making in the town 3364 persons to be relieved.

The country parts of our District are also divided into wards and similar enquiries in progress, the result of which I have reason to believe will be painful in the extreme. We have also made considerable additions to our local subscriptions, those of the struggling inhabitants of the town being as usual on every occasion of the kind liberal and generous indeed,- we now have a sum of £ on hands and have no doubt it will very shortly reach £ .

With these funds the committee have arranged to set the most destitute to work tomorrow morning, but provisions are so enormously high here that they have determined for the first few days to pay them in cash - Indian Meal of which there is but a very small quantity in town is £12 the ton, and had potatoes 4-d the stone nominally, but really 6d from the large quantity of bad amongst them. If the committee were to purchase provisions at these prices the funds now on their hands would afford but little relief, and for only a brief period - and their going into the market at all would have the effect of raising the prices still higher. To purchase them at Clonmel, Limerick or the other larger markets would now be made unsafe given the state of the country.

Under these circumstances I am directed to solicit the Relief Commissioners to transmit to the committee about 20 tons of Indian Meal under escort at cost price which will be remitted at any time required.

A secured yard & stores has been already placed at the service of the committee for the purpose of storing this meal and the most scrupulous attention will be paid to the rules laid down by the commissioners in the distribution of it.

In fact this town is so central and in the middle of such a prosperous District that the committee would suggest to the Government to form a depot or station here for the storage of meal, for the use of the neighbouring districts. The committee would willingly take charge of it and in every way in their power forward the humane intentions of the Government in alleviating the frightful distress of the poor, and labouring classes. There are always strong detachments of military and constabulary here if their services should be requested to protect such a depot; but our poor people have given most convincing proof of their patient and peaceable character under the most painful privations. Tho the payment of the labourers in cash would soon exhaust our funds and render all our exertions useless.

I am directed to solicit as early a reply to this application as the multiplicity of other calls on the commissioners will admit of.

I am, Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

Jas. B. Kennedy, Secretary.

To the Trustees appointed for the distribution of Indian Meal.

My Lords,

I am directed by the Relief Committee of the district of Thurles Town and Parish humbly to solicit your Lordships for a portion of the fund recently remitted from the Exchequer for the relief of the poor of Ireland. That the district formed here under the auspices of the relief commissioners forms an inconsiderable part of the county will appear from the fact that our population in this parish amounts to 14,000 souls.

It would be needless to enter into a detailed account of the frightful distress and poverty existing among us but the following fact taken from the returns of the wardens will give some idea of it, viz:-

In the town of Thurles alone there are at this moment 768 families containing 3364 inhabitants in actual want; of these 739 are old men, women and children unable to work and who have no one to labour for them; and the remaining 2625 are depending on the daily hire of the sons and heads of the families to the number of 790 able to work and now out of employment.

This for the town alone is an awful picture, but the respectable committee whose names I enclose are ready to vouch the truth of it. A fund has been raised to provide food and employment but although generously subscribed to by the "strugglers" of the town, and some of the independents, it has yet reached but about £400. This with whatever the Government will give (if they give anything) will with judicious management do something, but have not reached half the distress. Under these painful circumstances the committee has directed me to make this application to your Lordships. I trust not in vain and if the most peaceable and patient conduct on the part of our poor people under their trying privations entitle them to those considerations than those who have reason also to plunder the district.

I am convinced they will meet it in your Lordships' hands.

I have the honour to be, My Lords,

Your Lordships obedient servant,

Jas. B. Kennedy, Secretary.

11. State your estimate of prevailing destitution, and any further circumstances which appear to you calculated to bring the case before the committee.

Of the population of the united parishes of Thurles and Rahealty 8,000 are on the relief list. The majority obtain very inadequate relief by employment on Public Works. There are about 300 destitute families having no person to work, to whom gratuitous relief must be given; there are other families varying from 10 to 12 having only one member able to work whose wages 10 a day would not be adequate to the support of two persons at the present famine prices of food. The poor house built to accommodate 700 has now stowed within 940 and there cannot be any more admissions and groups who cannot be admitted are to be seen shivering in the cold and wet anxiously expecting the fragments of cold stirabout that remains after the inmate pauper meal. We have lived to see the poor sitting at the paupers gate among the crumbs that fall from the paupers table. We have not had any deaths from actual starvation but numerous deaths have occurred from severe and long continual privation. The weekly average of deaths has increased fivefold.

Question of relief under the new act discussed. Rev Mr Barron stated that unless something done towards bringing it into operation at once there would be a great danger of the people.

Mr Jones suggests that Capt Norris be requested to allow the committee, as he has in communication with the Government and had been applied to for names for the finance committee.

Dr Knaggs also asks to solicit presence of Mr Gahan. Capt Norris attends and states that the Government wrote for the names of the committee and other parties some days ago and he sent them up.

Question then as to whether a letter should be written to the Government calling on them to pass a new relief act into operation. Mr Jones suggests that Secretary should write to Mr Stanley stating the Relief Committees anxiety to be informed when it is likely the new act would be put into operation here as they should shape their course accordingly and be prepared to meet any delay which might arise and also to state that but very few of the able bodied labourers could be struck off in consequence of the high price of provisions.

In consequence of complaints being made that gardeners and be procured in the town it was arranged that a list of the gardeners on the public works should be given to Capt Norris in order to provide stewards in their place.

Queries from Irish Relief Association and Replies thereto.

Present state of district as regards destitution and sickness?

Destitution and sickness on the increase. The Fever Hospital is full, in the female ward there are two patients in every bed. The funds are nearly exhausted and it is with the deepest regret that we have to announce that the Hospital must be closed on the 13th April from want of funds.

What contributions have you received from other sources since your last communication?

Contributions to the amount of £144.16.11½ together with a grant of one hundred pounds worth of provisions from the Central Relief Committee of all Ireland also a similar grant from the British Association for the relief of distressed people of Ireland and Scotland.

What means have you in operation for the relief of the poor as to food or labour exclusive of money or employment afforded by Government; Have you a soup kitchen and of what materials does the soup usually consist? A soup kitchen and oven distributing over 1,800 rations of one pint of soup or porridge and ½ lb. of wholemeal bread daily. The soup made in the proportion of 2½ lbs of rice, 2½ stone of Indian meal, 1 stone swede turnips, 20 lbs of meat to 70 gallons of water. Porridge made in the proportion of 3 stone of rice, 3 stone Indian meal, 4 lbs sugar to 70 gallons of water. There is but very little employment except that provided by public works. The farmers are unable to execute any work beyond the mere tillage of the farm which is done by horse; work we have, but two resident landlords in the district with the exception of two hundred men employed on the Railway the labouring population are depending upon employment provided by Government from which more than 800 have been dismissed within the last week in consequence of the grants being exhausted and upon these 800 more than 3,500 individuals depending upon them for their support.

Commissariat Relief Office.

6th March 1847.

Sir,

Commissary General Sir R Routh begs to state for the information of your Relief Committee that numerous cases have occurred in which committees have applied for information as to whether Relief funds may be applied in defraying the expenses of interring the bodies of destitute persons who die without having friends capable of providing for their burial; he now desires to state that your committee may exercise discretion in applying the Relief Fund for such purpose, where an urgent necessity shall be found to exist, and where funds have not been provided by Vestry Assessment as by law required. The Commissary General begs to remark that the public health as well as public decency require that the bodies of the dead should not remain uninterred.

Yours

Wm Stanley

To Secretaries Relief Committees.

Resolved that from the extreme destitution of the people in this district a most urgent necessity for assistance for burying the bodies of deceased destitute persons exists, there being no funds provided by vestry assessment for that purpose and where it appears to the committees a necessity exists for assistance an order for a coffin signed by the chairman be given to John Quinn carpenter who will be paid upon the same terms that he supplies the poor house. The propriety of giving coffins to the deceased destitute discussed.

consideration of the Finance Committee, under these conditions they would request an advance of £500 which it would appear under the 15 sec of the relief Act could be given by the commissioners of her Majesty's treasury.

Resolved we have received with much regret the determination of the Rev Wm Barron to resign his post as a member of this committee; we are sensible that from the commencement of our labours in the arduous task of alleviating the severe distress of our poor parishioners we have derived from Mr Barron and the other Roman Catholic Clergymen most valuable information and assistance, such as from their peculiar acquaintance with the circumstances of the poor they were enabled to impart, and which they have ever given to us with the greatest readiness and the most unwearied exertion.

We are of the opinion that the absence of all the Roman Catholic Clergy from this Relief Committee will seriously impair its efficiency and usefulness and we hope that the Rev Wm Barron will soon again rejoin our meetings and give us the benefit of his experience and advice in administering to the wants of the poor, and that the harmony which has attended all our proceedings from their commencement will be continued until it shall please God to vouchsafe a successful termination of our present labours.

The New Relief Act - Important to Committees.

The following queries have been submitted by a member of the North City Electoral Division Relief Committee to the Relief Commissioners; the answers annexed were returned by Sir John Burgoyne.

Queries	Answers
No 1. If the head or member of a family be earning any wages no matter how small, are they to be put on the relief books for gratuitous supplies?	No 1. No family should get any relief of which the head is in employment, and in receipt of any wages. It is a matter of principle essential to be maintained, notwithstanding the plausible argument of small earnings.
No 2. Are the heads of all families to attend for the relief unless certified by a medical gentleman, or by the inspector of the ward or district relief committee, as unable to do so from illness or bodily infirmity?	No 2. It is very essential that the heads of families should be obliged to attend for a sufficient time during working hours, to prevent abuse; nor does there appear to be any plausible reasons against it.

It being stated that Mr J Lloyd chairman of the Moyne relief committee had sent to the Relief Commissioners a letter containing strong objections to the resolution proposed here (he himself being present), Mr Labarte thru whom that letter was sent asked to give this committee a copy; and he having replied that he had kept no copy, the chairman was requested to apply to Mr Lloyd for a copy. This was immediately done. The chairman wrote to Mr Lloyd, who was in this town stating the committees wish on the subject.

Mr Lloyd shortly afterwards attended and the committee discussed the best mode of managing the hospital in future, and directed the chairman to write again to the Relief Commissioners, requesting a reply to the application made to them respecting the estimates sent in.

A circular letter from the Relief Commissioners dated 24th June addressed to the Inspecting Officer was read. It stated that the Lords of the Treasury have directed the Relief Commissioners to insist invariably that no rations shall henceforth be issued of any uncooked food except biscuit or bread; and intimated that unless those directions were strictly complied with, the supplies will be stopped.

Resolved that in compliance with the above circular, we take measures for returning to the distribution of cooked food, as soon as the numbers of our applicants shall admit of that change.

The treasurer is directed to give a cheque on the Bank for £90 to be paid to Dr Knaggs on account of Indian meal delivered for the use of Thurles electoral division; and a cheque for ten pounds to be paid to Dr Knaggs on account of meal delivered for the use of the Rathealty electoral division.

Copy of letter sent to J M Labarte Esq. in reply to a circular of the Relief Commissioners of the 24th relative to uncooked food:-

Thurles

30th June 1847.

Sir,

I am directed to inform you that this committee has under their anxious consideration the circular of the Relief Commissioners of the 24th inst, with a view of determining how far it may be in our power to give effect to the wishes of the Commissioners that we should return to the distribution of rations of cooked food, our committee, convinced that the recommendation is sound in principle, would be glad to see it carried into practice, and therefore have carefully calculated the means at our disposal and balanced the difficulties which surround each side of the question. And we beg to lay the following detailed statement before the Commissioners in explanation of the circumstances in which we are placed, and by which our operations appear to be materially controlled. Our daily distribution of rations of 1 lb of meal each amount to 6,788. We have 4 places of distribution in various parts of the town and parish, and a staff of 14 attendants at a weekly cost of £7.1.6. The distribution of meal as at present given is completed in about 5 or 6 hours.

The meal is not only very acceptable to all classes of the receivers, but we are assured by medical men that since the use of it has become general the health of the town has signally improved. There is far less diarrhoea and dysentery than there was three months ago and tho' the fever continues among our poor and crowded population, its character has been more mild and the number deaths is considerably diminished. If we return to the distribution of cooked food now that the rations have been augmented to 1 lb of meal each, the following will be our condition. As 1 lb of meal in stirabout or porridge will be represented by about 2 quarts, 6,778 rations will require 13,367 quarts to be given out daily. We have only 4 boilers holding about 320 gallons. Two proper boilings are all which could be made in a day amounting to 640 gallons or 1,280 rations which will be less than one tenth part of the quantity required. The preparation and distribution would be more troublesome so that more hands would be required and must be paid for, and the time consumed would be so much increased, that we fear that many persons would have to wait till a late hour of the evening before they could be served, and this would seriously add to the danger of infection by remaining many hours in crowded masses round the doors of the soup kitchens, especially during the present weather.

If with all these drawbacks, we are only able to supply one tenth of these who come for rations, what will be done with the remainder? On what principle shall we determine the kind of food which each is to receive and how shall we enable the people to comprehend the reasons and fairness of that distinction? At present they have great confidence in us, and believe that we endeavour to treat them all impartially, and in consequence of this belief their behaviour has been uniformly peaceable and submissive. It would be a source of much regret if any sudden change should now occur to disturb that harmony of feeling. In addition to these reasons (of the validity of which we leave the Commissioners to judge) a new one is forced on our attention by a circular letter communicated to us this day, announcing the probability that all granting of rations under the present act will cease on or about the 15th August next, so that not only would an extensive and important change have to be made for a very short period, but it is certain that we could not procure and fit up the additional number of boilers which would be necessary in less than 3 weeks, that is to say full one half of the whole time during which it is contemplated to supply these rations.

Under these circumstances we give it as our deliberate opinion that to attempt the proposed change at present would not be beneficial. At the same time we beg to remark, that we are endeavouring to meet our great object which the Lords of the Treasury seem to have in view by exercising continual vigilance over the lists of applicants for relief, tho' not always with that degree of success which both they and we would desire.

I have the honour to be Sir,

Your Faithful servant

Signed H. Cotton

A circular was communicated by the Inspecting Officer in which the Relief Commissioners complain loudly of the great frauds committed in applications for gratuitous relief, and decide that much greater stringency should be used in granting it, especially that the labourers now in employment should be struck off.
